

RING SIZE GUIDE

There are a number of factors to consider when determining the correct ring size, so it is usually best to use a ring sizing tool or a ring mandrel in a jewellery store. The correct size ring should feel comfortable to wear, be loose enough to fit over the knuckles, but not so loose that it may fall off or move around too much.

Our website and guide uses UK/AUD sizes. If you know your ring size in another country, visit www.ringsizes.co to view an international ring size conversion chart.

FACTORS THAT IMPACT FIT

Fingers can swell by a half or full size towards the end of the day or during hot weather. Rings with thicker bands tend to have a tighter fit, also warranting a size increase.

When multiple rings are to be worn on the same finger, they may need to vary in size depending on their position on the finger.

HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

To use the guide correctly, please print this A4 document at a scale of 100%.

Method 1: matching an existing ring

Find a ring that fits comfortably on the intended finger. Match the inside of the ring perfectly to one of the circles below (ensuring there are no gaps between the circle and the inside of the ring).

Method 2: measuring a finger

Find a piece of (non stretchy) string or cord and wrap it around the base of the finger, ensuring that it is not too loose or too tight. Mark with a pen where the string begins to overlap then match the length of the string with one of the lines below.

Unable to find a perfect match?

If you cannot find a perfect match, we recommend finding the closest match, then going up a half or full size, taking into account comfort and potential swelling.

NEED ASSISTANCE?

Contact Natalie Barney Jewellery on 1300 043 091 (freecall Australia) or +61 2 9953 8624 (international) or email info@nataliebarney.com.

